Next Level Document Retrieval

MANAGING DOCUMENTS

windream Live Search

The new windream Live Search raises document retrieval to a new level

Our new windream Live Search – an application for the windream Dynamic Workspace – sets new standards when it comes to retrieving and displaying information from a windream system in real-time.

The new application for the windream Dynamic Workspace is able to identify possible results or refinements of the entered search term already when typing it in and to suggest them as possible search results.

Intelligent search routines and real-time results

This eliminates the need to manually enter complex search terms. Possible additions or precisions to a search term are immediately recognized by the system and displayed as you type a single term into the search field.

Example: After entering the term „invoice“, Live Search immediately suggests an addition or refinement such as „invoice status“, „invoice release“ or „accounting“, provided the terms exist in the system.

This intelligent method, which is based on state-of-the-art software technologies, allows users to perform searches in a windream system very quickly and very precisely.

Another intelligent support for the user is the fact that windream Live Search always displays hits or search results in the exact context of the found documents as so-called „abstracts“. Thus, you can immediately see in which word context the hits appear in the found documents.

Key data

- ✓ Real-time search with identification and display of possible search results already during the input of a search term
- ✓ No need to enter complex search terms
- ✓ Suggestions for more precise search results in real time
- ✓ Presentation of the context of the hits through abstracts
- ✓ Application of filters to specify the hit list more precisely
- ✓ Complete integration into the windream Dynamic Workspace
- ✓ Device-independent use, also in mobile operation

Individual filtering of hits according to „facets“

But the windream Live Search can do even more. It also allows you to refine the set of search results step by step by means of filters – called „facets“. This is done in the same way as, for example, when searching for an article in an online store: You enter a search term, the system displays the results and you refine your search result by means of the facets, e.g. by filtering according to manufacturer, price, color of the article etc.

This is exactly how the filtering of search results in windream Live Search works, too. In the facets, you filter the meta or index data which have been assigned to the documents within a windream ECM-system as document properties. To stay with the example of invoices: As a filter, it would be possible to specify „Invoice amount“, „Name of issuer“, „Invoice status“ or „Invoice date“.

windream Live Search also on mobile devices

And the best thing about it: All this is also possible on mobile devices! No matter whether you are sitting in front of a desktop monitor at your workstation, whether you are working with a notebook on the road or whether you prefer a smartphone: Due to the complete integration into the windream Dynamic Workspace, windream Live Search is immediately ready for use, independent of the respective terminal device.
